Greetings Bram - via the Duxford Radio link

During the war I was in MI6 - designated 'Section VIII' - the Communications Arm of SIS. I was based at its wartime HQ in Whaddon Hall near Bletchley Park. My first job was making agent's Radio sets and I worked on the MkV and the much lighter MkVII.

You may well have used one of ours?

It is nice to know someone else is still about from those grim but exciting days! And using a Mk7 again!

Keep going Bram,

With kind regards,

Geoffrey Pidgeon
